

NEW VOLCANO, QUAKE FORMED, IS THREATENING

Remains with Bullet Wound Through Head, Found.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rome, Sept. 10.—A volcanic crater has suddenly opened at the top of Pizzo d'Uccello, a mountain 5,845 feet high about nine miles northeast of Spezia. It is located on what appears to be the northwest corner of the district shaken by Tuesday morning's earthquake, which resulted in the loss of hundreds of lives in the region just north of Florence. A telegram from Spezia states the crater is emitting smoke and sulphuric fumes.

The shock which devastated scores of little towns and villages north of Florence seems to have followed the line of the mountains. This is common to earthquakes in Italy, as the tremor that destroyed Messina in 1908 followed the Calabro-Sicilian mountains, and the one Avezzano ran along the Apennines.

Reports from northern Italy do not tell of the damage done by the tremor which shook the Emilia district yesterday morning. First reports stated the shock was more severe than that which destroyed Fivizzano and other towns north of Florence.

RESCUE WORK GOES ON.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Fivizzano, Italy, Sept. 9.—(By Associated Press.)—Survivors of Tuesday morning's earthquake which laid the once flourishing and cheerful town of Fivizzano in ruins, are coming to realize more and more the extent of the calamity that has befallen them, and they seem stupefied with the horror of the disaster. The work of rescue went on all last night and doctors, sanitary assistants, sailors, students, nurses and volunteers were themselves out in their efforts to bring comfort to as many sufferers as possible. Portable stoves are being set up, since there is hardly a house standing in the city.

Tot Looks For "Mama."

As in former earthquakes, some families have been rescued almost without injury from the ruins of their homes while in other cases every inmate of shattered dwellings was killed. One little girl whom nobody recognizes wanders about the town with her frock torn and tears running down her begrimed face, asking for "mama mia." She possibly is a child of visitors here for the summer season, and was playing in a field when the earthquake came. Her family was probably wiped out. She cannot tell where she lives and knows only that her name is "Tina," and that she came here with her father, mother and little brothers.

SUGGESTS CAUSE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, Sept. 9.—The seismographic station at Jena suggests as the possible cause of the Italian earthquake a sinking of the earth along the mountains bordering the Gulf of Genoa. Experts there say it indicates a massive caving zone in the earth's crust.

Vote for Butts for Clerk to Be Wasted

Lucas I. Butts, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Clerk of the Supreme Court, has filed a notice of the withdrawal of his candidacy with Secretary of State Emerson. The withdrawal, however, came in too late to have his name left off the ballots and therefore his name will appear on the ballots of most of the counties of the state.

Voters should be notified that Mr. Butts has withdrawn from the race and that any votes cast for him will be wasted. The withdrawal of Mr. Butts will add the candidacy of Charles W. Valle, who now has as his only opponent for the Republican nomination Edward Schneider. Mr. Valle is a deserving candidate and should receive a big vote in Lee County.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, of Middleton, N. Y., formerly of Dixon, are visiting here. Mr. Hopkins was for eighteen years mechanical engineer for the Borden Co. at this place, and is still in the employ of the same company.

COUNTRY WONT CARE 30 CENTS ABOUT BIG FUND

Watkins, Dry Candidate, Makes Assertion at Hamline.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Hamline, Minn., Sept. 10.—The country at large will not care 30 cents to find out the exact figures or even the approximate figures of any campaign fund, said Aaron S. Watkins, Prohibition candidate for president, in a speech at the Minnesota State Fair today.

"It is said by some that all the national elections since the Civil War have followed the lines of largest contributions," Mr. Watkins continued. "The fact that the side with the largest campaign fund has usually won may be a case of cause and effect one way or another. The man who calls attention too largely to his opponent's campaign funds may be betraying the fact that the swing is against himself."

"The real questions of this year are the League of Nations, the labor problem and the extinction of the liquor traffic."

Mr. Watkins devoted the major portion of his speech to a discussion of rural problems, the most important of which, he said, was the steady decrease of rural population. He concluded:

"As long as boys and girls on the farm are taught that the great opportunities, intellectual, social and financial, are in the cities, we shall cry out in vain against their exodus from the farm. Whenever we begin to plan the farm as a permanent place to live and the best place to enjoy life, then the farm will be in condition at least to state its problems to the country and to assist in their solution."

INVESTIGATION IN CHICAGO WILL END TOMORROW; GO EAST

Upham Took Stand Again Today Before Senate Committee.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 10.—The senate committee at the noon recess announced that the investigation of the charges by Governor Cox would be completed to-morrow and that the committee would then recess to meet in some eastern city on Sept. 22.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 10.—Fred W. Upham today told the senate committee investigating campaign funds that he took full responsibility for the proposal to raise the limit of Republican campaign contributions to $10,000 from $1,000.

"I was voted down by a large majority at a meeting in New York," he said.

He said "form 101" the so-called "Blair plan" was brought about by his advocacy of a larger contribution limit and was prepared after he had told Harry M. Blair, his assistant, that he believed the 10,000 figure would be adopted after the national convention had ended.

"I hoped the lid would be raised and I did recommend $10,000 as a limit," said Mr. Upham. "I presented this proposition at a meeting in New York attended by Will Hays, Charles Hollis, Alvin T. Hart of Kentucky, William Dougherty of Ohio and Colonel William Boyce Thompson of New York."

"They voted me down by a big majority and I stepped from the room and told Mr. Blair to telegraph his men in Chicago not to send out form 101."

"Two days later," continued Mr. Upham, "Colonel Thompson went to Washington and saw Senator Harding and the candidate gave out a statement to The Associated Press that he had instructed the Republican national committee not to accept contributions of more than $10,000 each, promising that if any change was made in the plan, the public would be notified before it was put into effect."

Mr. Upham said he did not write form 101 and that it contained some expressions and ideas which he would not have approved.

"But form 101 was and is dead," he added.

"I never saw a quota list for cities or any other quota list except that for states prepared in my office," said Mr. Upham.

"You assume responsibility for the 'palm singers'?" asked Senator Pomerene.

"I do, and am proud of the work my former Y. M. C. A. campaigners are doing," said Mr. Upham. "I believe that on the showing here of results I could, as a business man get the job of raising the Democratic campaign fund and when they reorganize their finances I think they will adopt our system."

Mr. Upham presented figures on pre-convention receipts and expenditures, his previous testimony being limited to the period after the national convention. Today's testimony showed expenditures of more than $1,000,000 for publicity, headquarters and other national committee expenses between Dec. 1, 1918 and July 12 of this year.

Mr. Upham testified that part of the pre-convention expense for speakers was for men sent out to preach republican doctrines at chautauquas. He said the Republican national committee had a "chautauqua bureau" under a Dr. Ellis.

"Some prominent Democrats have appeared on the chautauqua platform," suggested Senator Kenyon.

"Yes, but not as hired men of the national committee," rejoined Senator Pomerene.

The chairman then brought out that Mr. Upham understood that there were "Democratic Days" at the chautauquas where the Republican bureau men were sent.

Summarizing "all this budget and quota business" into what he called "a plain business statement" Mr. Upham said that the state quota list of about $4,800,000 made up in his office included both the pre-convention and actual presidential campaign periods. He then pointed out that more than $1,100,000 of his total had been raised and spent before the present budget of $3,975,000 was made up.

"CARMEN" SHOULD BE POPULAR IN DIXON; ADVANCE SALE GOOD

Story of Beautiful Opera Coming to Assembly Park Is Told.

Early indications as seen in the response to the advance subscription lists point to a decided success for the gorgeous production of "Carmen" to be presented by Ralph Dunbar, New York and Chicago producer, at the Assembly Auditorium Friday evening, September 17.

It is to be hoped that the people of Dixon and surrounding territory will patronize this affair generously and thereby encourage the appearance in Dixon of similar high quality entertainments.

Story of Carmen
The story of the Bizet opera "Carmen" with Lorna Doone Jackson in the same role, is laid in Seville, during the year 1820.

The first act opens in the public square, in which a troop of soldiers under command of Lieut. Don Jose, and loungers are waiting the approach of the pretty girls who work in the cigarette factory near by and, prettiest and most heartless of them all, Carmen. Before they appear Micaela, a village girl enters the square, bearing a message to Don Jose from her mother, but not finding him, departs.

The cigarette girls at last pass by on their way to work, and Carmen who observes Don Jose sitting in an indifferent manner and throws him the rose she wears in her bosom. As the girls disappear Micaela returns and delivers her message. The sight of the gentle girl and the thoughts of home dispel Don Jose's growing passion for Carmen. He is about to throw away her rose, when a sudden disturbance is heard in the factory. It is found that Carmen has quarreled with one of the girls and wounded her. She is arrested and to avoid further mischief her arms are pinioned. She so bewitches the lieutenant, however, that he connives at her escape and succeeds in effecting it.

In the second act Carmen has returned to her wandering gypsy life, and is found with her companions singing and dancing in the cabaret of Lilius-Pastia. Escamillo arrives. He is the noted bull fighter of Grenada and Carmen becomes fascinated.

When the inn is closed, Escamillo and the soldiers leave, but Carmen waits with two of her gypsy band who are smugglers, for the arrival of Don Jose. They persuade her to induce him to join their band, and when the lieutenant, wild with passion for her, enters the apartment, she prevails upon him to remain, in spite of the trumpet call which summons him to duty. An officer orders him out. He refuses to go. The gypsies are called and overpower the officer and Don Jose escapes to the mountains.

The third act transpires in the mountain haunts of the smugglers. Escamillo appears and arouses the jealousy of Don Jose and an imminent fight is barely averted. Escamillo bides his time, invites them to the approaching bull fight at Seville and departs. While Don Jose is upbraiding Carmen, the faithful Micaela, who has been guided to the spot, begs him to accompany her, as his mother is dying. Duty prevails and Don Jose leaves Carmen.

In the last act the drama hurries on to the tragic denouement. It is a gala day in Seville for Escamillo is to fight. Carmen is there in his company, although her gypsy friends have warned her that Don Jose is searching for her. Amid great pomp, Escamillo enters the arena, and Carmen is about to follow when Don Jose appears and stops her. She will not listen. The shouts of the people in the arena announce another victory for Escamillo. Carmen cries out with joy. Don Jose springs at her like a tiger, and stabs her just as Escamillo emerges from the contest.

Milan, Italy, Sept. 10.—Members of the Socialist group in the Italian parliament, leaders of the General Confederation of Labor and representatives of the Federation of Metal Workers conferred here today with delegates sent to Milan by the employers of labor. These discussions, which occupied the entire day, seemed to reflect a desire on the part of the contending forces to bring about a compromise which would solve the anomalous industrial situation throughout Italy.

A section of the metal workers, however, oppose any compromise and wishes, rather, to enlarge the agitation by bringing in other classes of workers.

It has been reported that men who have taken over industrial plants have been arming themselves and recent events have seemed to confirm these rumors. The men go through military drills each morning under the supervision of former officers in the Italian army.

Rockford Power is Down; Fuel Is Poor

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 9.—Rockford Electric company's service was halted intermittently throughout the morning today, owing to the poor quality of fuel available for use at the power plant.

The first curtailment in the company's service came shortly before 1 o'clock, when street cars were stopped for several minutes and various lighting circuits discontinued temporarily.

Interruptions in the service continued for a brief period until 11:15 o'clock when a better grade of fuel was started into the furnaces and normal service resumed. Several factories were seriously inconvenienced as well as the city traction and interurban companies by the shut downs in the flow of current.

No cars ran to Beloit or Freeport during the period this morning it was given out at the manager's office of the interurban company, and irregular service was maintained on the Beloit division. Regular service, however, was maintained between Beloit and Janesville, power being obtained from Janesville.

Cur Saves Maiden from Death in Pool

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 10.—A young woman, 19 years old, in a hospital here today owes her life to a brown cur dog which, after she had been attacked by an unidentified white man and knocked half conscious, into a pool of water, went to her assistance and held her head above the surface until help arrived.

The woman who resides beyond the outskirts of the city, was alone when the man accosted her. Fearing harm she fled but was overtaken near an excavation filled with water to a depth of nearly two feet. Her assailant struck her on the head and she fell into the pool. The dog, which had followed, jumped in after her and with her clothing clamped between its jaws, stood by until the crew of a passing freight train discovered her plight. She said she must have been in the water at least half an hour.

Mrs. J. B. Williams went to Sterling this morning for a short visit.

Bad Weather Hits Planes in Alaska

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 9.—The army airplane expedition returning in Minola, N. Y., from its flight to Nome, Alaska left White Horse today for Glenora on the Skikine river but encountered bad weather on Nakina Summit three of the planes returned late this afternoon. The fourth plane had not been heard from early tonight.

BIG PRICE FOR BULL.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 10.—The South American record price for pedigreed cattle was broken yesterday when the Herford bull that won the grand championship at the international stock show here, was sold for $93,600. The bull was bred in Argentina.

PLANES FORCED DOWN

The heavy fog which settled over this vicinity during the early morning hours forced three United States mail planes to alight in the vicinity of Dixon, the pilots being unable to see or to keep their planes in the air in the dense banks of moisture. Two of the planes landed on the Thomas Gelfer farm in Nelson township and the third was forced down near Nachusa.

The planes which alighted in Nelson township were the Chicago-Omaha machine, piloted by A. L. Jewett, and a big machine being ferried through from New York to San Francisco for use in the Frisco-New York mail service. This machine was in charge of Pilot Hucking.

Today's Market Report

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 10.—Wheat prices turned down ward today, influenced by a break in sterling exchange and by reports of rain in Argentina. There was a lack of the eastern buying which recently has been a feature. Selling however, was not aggressive. Opening quotations which varied from 1/2 to 1 1/2 with Dec. 2 1/2, 2 1/2 and March 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 were followed by a moderate further decline and then something of a rally.
Prospects of warmer weather had a bearish effect on corn. After opening 1/2 to 1/2 higher with December 1 1/2 to 1 1/2, the market continued to descend.
Oats reflected the weakness of other grain, starting 1/2 to 1/2 down and undergoing a further sag.
Higher prices on hogs gave strength to provisions.
Scarcity of country offerings tended later to check wheat declines. The close was unsettled 1/2 to 1/2 net lower with Dec. 2 1/2 and March 2 1/2 to 2 3/4. Big clearances of corn from Argentina to the United States counted somewhat against the bulls. The close was nervous 1/2 to 1/2 net lower, with Dec. 1 1/2 to 1 1/2.

"Can't you find some Y. M. C. A. secretaries to help you?" asked Senator Pomerene.
"Mr. Upham may loan you some," suggested Senator Kenyon.
"Yes we were talking about that this morning," responded the witness.
Senator Kenyon learned that Mr. Boeschenstein wanted to raise all the money he could get.
"But as a matter of fact when we get that much we have barely enough to meet necessary expenses," said Mr. Boeschenstein.

Letters to Postmaster.

The witness was asked about letters sent to Joseph Coffman, the Augusta, Ill. postmaster, and given to the committee yesterday. He said he had no list of federal office holders and none of postmasters, but "suspected" he had sent some letters to postmasters. He assumed responsibility for the letters.

The envelope stamped "deliver at home address only" was shown him and he said he frequently used that stamp to call attention to the letter. He said the practice was not confined to letters sent to federal office holders.

"How can I get the envelopes?" retorted the witness. "Emphatically, however, I say yes I did use that

TO END QUIZ IN CHI. TOMORROW

To End Chicago Quiz.

The committee will complete the Chicago end of the inquiry tomorrow, but the question of where the next session would be held has caused a split in the ranks of the Senators conducting the hearing.

The Republican members, Senators Edge, Spencer and Kenyon, have declared that evidence brought by Mr. Moore to support Governor Cox has proved the charges and move on to Pittsburgh to investigate reports that the liquor interests were expending vast sums of money in the interests of Governor Cox's candidacy. The liquor charges involved William Barnes, compiler of the Republican year book of 1920, and publisher of the Albany Journal.

The Democratic members, Senators Pomerene and Reed, however, are holding out to stage the next session in New York, where they would subpoena Colonel William Joyce Thompson, chairman of the Republican national ways and means committee. Reeve chief, eastern treasurer and others. They contended Governor Cox's charges are being proven and they wish to complete the investigation started here.

Democrat on Stand.

Charles Boeschenstein, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, said there was no fund raising organization of his party in the state. He said he was just starting to get a fund together, the limit being "the ability and willingness of the men who contribute."

Mr. Boeschenstein said a letter campaign was in prospect and that he hoped to get county chairmen in most of the counties.

"There are some counties in Illinois where you can't find two Democrats willing to work," he said.
The witness told Senator Kenyon he had no hopes of raising a large fund this year and was in fact a bit discouraged over the outlook. He knew nothing of any other organization trying to raise Democratic funds in the state.

Got No Replies.

"I sent out letters to twenty men stamp on letters to bankers and others."

"Is it not true that you are trying to get funds from federal officers, in Illinois?" queried Senator Kenyon.
"Positively not," said Mr. Boeschenstein. He explained that federal laws prevented solicitations and it was too much trouble to go to the men as merely party members.
"How then do you get your money?" asked the Iowa senator.
"I don't know. We manage to get by and pay our rent," said the witness. "In the last state campaign we used less than $10,000 throughout Illinois."

MacLean of the First Presbyterian church, using the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bates of Dixon, Mont., and is held in high esteem by her many friends. The groom is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Duval of this city, who for the past year has lived in Missoula, Mont., and is bookkeeper at the First National Bank of that city.

The bride wore a light blue gown of pussy willow taffeta with black velvet hat with gloves to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony a sumptuous six course dinner was served by the bride's sister, Mrs. Francis Earl Duval. The decorations of the room and tables were ferns with pink and white roses.

Those present at the ceremony and dinner were the bride and groom, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Earl Duval, Harold R. Bates of Spokane, Rev. and Mrs. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Yaden, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boucher of Livingston, Mont.

Through a shower of rice and confetti the young couple left for the coast to visit friends and relatives in Spokane and Seattle, where they will spend their honeymoon of three weeks after which they will return to Missoula to make their home.

Attorney James Kelly of Amboy transacted legal business in Dixon this morning.

HE GAVE UP HOPE OF GETTING WELL

Decatur Man Was Unable to Work for Weeks Before He Began Taking Tanlac.

"I had given up hope of ever seeing another well day, but Tanlac had made a new man of me," said James Doty, of 414 N. Morgan street, Decatur, Ill.

"For twelve long years," said Mr. Doty, "I suffered so that I felt that death itself would be welcome. My kidneys worried me continually, and my back hurt me so bad I would have to sit in one position without moving. I lost my appetite completely, and even what little I ate bloated me up with gas until I could hardly stand it. I suffered terribly from rheumatism, and my legs were swollen and at times seemed like they were drawing up in knots. My nerves seemed to have given away entirely and at times I became so weak I had to sit down to keep from falling. I didn't know what a good night's sleep was, and I lost so much weight and strength that I was almost a living skeleton and couldn't work for weeks.

"When I had finished my second bottle of Tanlac I was getting better, today I can truthfully say that I never felt better before in all my life. My stomach and kidneys are in fine shape. I'm not the least bit nervous, I never feel a trace of rheumatism and can get about as good as I ever could. I have a big appetite and have gained so much weight and strength that I'm beginning to look like my old self again."

Tanlac is sold in Dixon by the Public Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggists in every town.

THE PRICE SITUATION

A Brief Summary of the Causes that Hold Prices High

During the past month we have received from our customers many inquiries concerning prices. Their general tenor was that the public expected and demanded a sharp reduction in this fall and that they (our customers) wished to know when this reduction would take place.

While we have already put ourselves on record as believing that no radical reductions on staple goods would occur this season, we feel that the present state of the public mind calls for more than a mere expression of opinion; and we wish to explain as fully and as frankly as possible the reasons for our belief.

One thing, however, seems certain, that the reduction will not come so soon or be so great as the public expects.

The flurry of reduction sales during the spring led the public to believe that the backbone of H. C. L. was broken, that in a few months they would be getting things for about the same price as in "the good old days before the war." That, of course, is impossible. The causes that forced prices up to their present pinnacle were not merely local or momentary, they were due to profound changes in the world's labor and finances.

Before the war the rates for common labor were fifteen to twenty cents an hour, today they are fifty to seventy-five cents. Skilled labor gets seven to nine dollars a day and in many lines the earnings run up to one hundred dollars a week. It is estimated that 85 per cent of the cost of all manufactured products is represented by labor. This estimate is perhaps high, but even if we reduce it to 75 per cent, we can see how impossible is a general reduction in costs of manufactured goods until there is a great reduction in the cost of the labor that makes them.

What chance is there of any immediate reduction in labor? It is universally conceded that wages cannot be substantially decreased so long as the cost of living remains as it is. We know that great multitudes abroad are on the verge of starvation and that our surplus is not enough to feed them. This will mean a constant drain on our regular food supply that in itself will tend to hold food prices high. The rush to the cities with the consequent difficulties in obtaining farm labor has materially decreased the acreage tilled until it is falling behind rather than keeping pace with the increase in population. Moreover, the great shortage in houses is bound to keep rent at a high figure for some years to come. With these facts in view it is hard to see how wages can be cut materially in the near future.

The raw materials which figure in manufactured goods are affected by this same scarcity and high cost of labor, and also by the enormous demand that Europe, stripped to its bare bones, needs to clothe itself and resume a normal life once again. There does not seem much prospect of any radical cut in price of these materials—the demand is and will be too great for some time to come.

Another large factor in manufacturing expense is coal, which is now selling at three and a half to four times the pre-war figures. That prices will go down when the present shortage is relieved is most likely, but this prospect is neither sure nor immediate. For months to come we can expect little relief in coal prices, and this additional expense to manufacturing is very heavy.

These are the reasons that lead us to feel, as we do, that price reductions will be slow and gradual, that it will be a long time before they reach a normal level, and that this normal level will itself be much above that of pre-war days. Unwelcome though this slow process may be to a public eager for lower prices it is far safer than would be any radical attempts at drastic reduction with its consequent sudden shrinkage in values. For sudden shrinkages in value mean only one thing—the failure of those not strong enough financially to stand a heavy and sudden loss.

This slow settling to normal shows the essential soundness and sanity of our mercantile system which not even a World War can jolt into a panic.

WOMEN VS. TAMMANYISM

Women, the new voters, enter into full participation in politics at a time which is fraught with danger to good government and their first votes will be a great influence for good or evil in Illinois.

The fact that the Republican party is engaged in a bitter fight and that big issues and principles are at stake, while there is no contest of note on the Democratic ticket, will tend to draw women, now without party affiliation, into the Republican primaries in great numbers.

All women who have reached the age of 21 should know that in the eyes of the law they now are simply voters. While women's and men's ballots will be kept in separate ballot boxes because of difficulties which may arise from litigation over suffrage, as the law stands a woman has exactly the same voting privileges as a man and will use the same ballot.
In assuming this right, every woman must know that she assumes a weight of obligation and she must study politics and determine the right course to pursue and select the right men and principles to vote for.

It certainly seems logical to believe that the woman vote will go to John G. Oglesby for governor, Wm. M. Mc-Kinley for U. S. Senator, Fred E.
Sterling for Lieutenant Governor, Louis L. Emmerson for Secretary of State, Andrew Russell for Auditor of Public Accounts, George E. Keys for State Treasurer, Edward J. Brundage for Attorney General, Charles W.
Vaile for Clerk of Supreme Court and John J. Brown and Stephan A. Day for Congressman at Large. These men are endorsed by Lowden and the down state men who are battling to prevent the seizure of control in Illinois by Mayor William Hale Thompson, Fred Lundin and the rest of the crew of Chicago big city politicians who have placed Len Small in nomination and have a full slate of candidates whom they hope to put in power at Springfield.

The women know what Chicago is.
They do not have to be students of politics to know, from the daily papers, the conditions of vice and corruption that exist in big city politics.
They know that the Lowden administration has been the cleanest, most progressive, most economical and most businesslike this state has experienced in many years. The candidates Lowden endorses will carry out his policies. Most of them were officials during his term and seek re-election. There is no hint of graft or corruption connected with them. They represent the entire state and have the welfare of the people in the country and the smaller towns at heart.

We believe the average woman has a keener sense of public duty and righteousness than the average man and will vote as her conscience dictates. She will vote for clean politics and public good.

The women of Illinois will be a powerful and very likely a deciding influence in the Republican primary September 15, next Wednesday.

Why not call in the mediums to ask old Noah where the dove of peace is?

The Republican women aged 21 or over are urged to vote Sept. 15th passes or not." I thought bitterly, and I resolved not to wear my heart out over this affair. Nevertheless my mind kept going around in a foolish circle. Ann and Claude Ives; myself and Claude Ives; Bob and Claude Ives. And I know that I would be a nervous wreck in the morning, and quite unable to discuss the weather with my husband.

I decided to be practical. I remembered the advice about insomnia given by a great psychologist. I found no book and read:

"If a patient afflicted with insomnia can control the whirling chase of his ideas so far as to think of nothing at all (which can be done, or so far as to imagine one letter after another of verse of scripture or poetry spelled slowly and monotonously out, it is almost certain that sleep will come."

By a tremendous effort of my will I began to spell the Twenty-third Psalm. And the next thing I knew Bob was splashing in his morning tub. I hated to face the new day. I had small reason to hope that I held any joy for me.

BRUNDAGE HAS FINE RECORD AS ATTORNEY GEN. OF ILLINOIS

His Administration Has Been One of Courage, Service and Fairness.

Edward J. Brundage, Attorney General, was born at Campbell, N. Y. May 13, 1869. In 1889 his parents removed to Detroit, Michigan, and his education, previously acquired through attendance at the public schools of Campbell, was continued in Detroit until 1893. At the age of fourteen he became self-supporting. He began working in a railroad office in Detroit and when the general office was removed to Chicago two years later he followed it, and by 1898 had risen to the position of chief clerk. He studied law in the intervals of other duties, and by 1892, was qualified and admitted to the Illinois bar. He was graduated from the Chicago College of Law (L.L. B.) in 1893.

He was elected a member of the Illinois House of Representatives from the Sixth District in the Forty-first and Forty-third General Assemblies, and in November, 1894, was elected president of the Board of County Commissioners of Cook County and re-elected in November, 1906. Businesslike methods were introduced in the management of county affairs and the new county building was erected during his term of office.

He resigned the presidency of the Board of County Commissioners April 16, 1907, to accept the office of corporation counsel of the city of Chicago, and continued his duties in that capacity until a change of administration from a Republican to a Democratic mayor in 1911.

He was vice president for Illinois of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. He is a Knight Templar and Consistory Mason, and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

He was married December 17, 1913, and has two sons and a daughter.

Shortly after Mr. Brundage became Attorney General the famous East St. Louis riots occurred. The local officials did not take the proper action and the better citizens of the community appealed to Mr. Brundage for help and upon investigation of the complaint he decided that immediate and drastic action was necessary. He went there and took entire charge of the situation and continued the prosecutions for many months. The cause of the riots was the subject of a thorough investigation by a special Committee of Congress, a majority of whom were Democrats, but regardless of their party affiliation they made a report which shows how favorably they were impressed with Mr. Brundage's conduct of his office. The report of the Committee said in part:

"Special commendation is due Attorney General Brundage. The Attorney General answered every appeal made to him by the good people of East St. Louis and St. Clair County, and, virtually without assistance from the local authorities, remedied many evils. It was due entirely to his efforts that lawless resorts were closed, and whenever there had been a violation of the State law he was quick to order the arrest and prosecution of the offender. As a result of the prosecutions by the Attorney General's office 11 negroes and 8 white men are in the state penitentiary; 2 additional white men have been sentenced to prison terms; 14 white men have been given jail sentences; 27 white men, including the former night chief of police and 3 policemen, have pleaded guilty to rioting and have been punished. These convictions were obtained in the face of organized, determined efforts, backed with abundant funds to head off the prosecutions and convictions. In the case of Mayor Mollman there seems to have been an open, paid advertising campaign to slander and intimidate the Attorney General. The State of Illinois is fortunate in having men of ability and character at the head of its law department."

Edward J. Brundage is a candidate for re-election to the office of Attorney General for the state of Illinois.

He is against the Thompson declaration of Principles.

He is against Thompson's effort to Tammanyze Illinois.

He is opposed to the Thompson-Lundin combine controlling in Illinois politics.

THE QUESTION:

Would it be possible for a woman to carry typhoid fever germs in her system eight years after recovering from typhoid, and communicate typhoid fever to people who buy milk from her after eight years? I am asking because my neighbor, who is scrupulously clean, has been giving me milk for over a year. The milk is rich and seems all right. Recently two of her patrons had typhoid fever, in fact, have it now.

The Health Department inquired where these patients were getting their milk, and immediately investigated my neighbor, and upon learning that she had had typhoid eight years ago, forbade her selling any more milk until they could make suitable tests.

The woman accepts the health board's decree in good faith, because she says she does not want to endanger her own family, but I do not believe this is the source of contagion, and would like to know for my own information. It seems far-fetched to me.

THE ANSWER:

In reply to your inquiry, you are advised that it is not only possible, but quite common for patients who have recovered from typhoid fever to continue the carrying of the germs of typhoid fever in their system.

I have personally known of an instance in which a dairy farmer continued to harbor typhoid bacteria in his system 4 years after having recovered from typhoid fever. During that time, he had unwittingly been the cause of repeated typhoid infections in the village where he sold milk.

My attention was directed to him through an outbreak of typhoid fever in New York City, embracing several hundred cases of typhoid fever among users of a particular supply of raw milk.

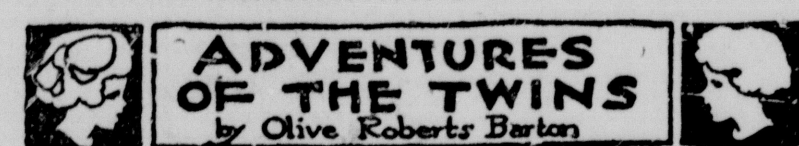

The condition is now well understood, and those who harbor typhoid bacilli long after convalescing from the disease, are spoken of as "typhoid bacillus carriers." There is an extensive literature on this subject, and you may be able to find some reference to this subject in your local library.

THE QUESTION:

My father has been troubled for several years with ulcers on the leg. They heal for a short time, and then break open. Sometimes they do not swell for a month. Can you tell me what to do?

THE ANSWER:

It is not possible to say definitely what is the trouble with your father's legs. Your description is very descriptive of varicose ulcers, a condition which is very common in persons of advanced years. The treatment of varicose ulcers, while not particularly difficult, is sometimes a very tedious affair. Rest in bed, in which the horizontal position of the legs helps the circulation, is often of great value. It is suggested that you discuss the matter frankly with your family physician, and, if necessary, have him refer you to some specialist for consultation.

SCHOOL BEGINS.

If you were to walk into the Meadow Grove school you'd probably be very much surprised at the various kinds of "seats" for the children. Bertie Bat was hanging by his feet from a stick; Orrie Owl, Oscar's mid-sized son, was snoozing in a cozy hole in the tree; Freddie Frog was squatting in a cool puddle; Sir Ann Spider was lounging comfortably in her web, with an interested eye on Buddie Blue Bottle, and the Mole and Mouse children were sitting with one stretch when the teacher's back was turned and if Terry Toad studying his spelling tasted as good as he looked.

Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, hammered on his desk (forgetting that it was the Magical Mushroom) and the school came to order.

"We'll now have reading," he announced.

Nancy was busily making a dunce-cap, and Nick was out hunting up the Funny girls who were away that day. Everything was very quiet, except for foot in a convenient hole, ready to follow with the rest of themselves if Smarty Skunk or Wisp Weasel got hungry while they were passing the slates.

The rest of the children were sitting up obediently on stones of various shapes and sizes, but you may imagine that Greenie Grasshopper's seat in promise resembled the one occupied by fat Wally Woodchuck. Sammie Snake, Jr., was in his element, curled up like a watchspring, on top of a nice flat rock, wondering how far he could the rustling of the pages, as the pupils hunted the place.

"Don't thumb over your leaves that way," said Scribble Scratch, "it bends them and makes dog-eared."

Everybody shivered and looked toward the door.

"Sport Squirrel," went on the master, "please read where it says, 'I see a cat.'" Everybody jumped again.

"Oh," piped Floppy Field Mouse with a start. "This—is this is place for me."

THE QUESTION:

What can be done for nearsightedness? Can you give me the name of some medicine to make the pupils smaller?

THE ANSWER:

The only remedy for nearsightedness consists in the wearing of glasses. While there are remedies which decrease the size of the pupil of the eye, they should be used only when prescribed by a physician. It is very dangerous to tamper with medicines which change the size of the pupil. By all means ask your physician to give you the name of a reputable eye specialist whom you may consult.

THE BOOK OF ANN.

I HAVE SMALL REASON TO HOPE FOR JOYS ON THE NEW DAY

At midnight I started to phone Bob's father and ask that one of the men be sent over to guard the bungalow. But once more I hung up the receiver without giving the number. Many a wife has erred in advertising her husband's misdoings to friends and a husband has been murdered if he stays out after midnight without stating his intention.

Bob was not in a mood to spare me anything when he came home, but I had sense enough to spare him unnecessary humiliation.

I threw off my kimono, turned out all the lights in the house, except those in the vestibule and lower hall, and crept into my bed. In spite of my reasoning, there was always in the back of my mind a vision of Bob under his car at the foot of an embankment. I couldn't stabilize my nerves. I was just dumbly enduring my extreme mental agony when I heard Bob's car on the drive and a little later, the click of the lock as he closed the hall door.

Then came the even tread of his step on the stairs. I couldn't rush out and throw myself into his arms and tell him all my troubles. Too much thinking had paralyzed my will. I pretended not to hear him. Bob might think what he pleased. At least I would discover what kind of a girl he believed me to be, if he let his jealousy develop further.

My husband paused for a second at the top of the stairs, then passed my door softly and entered his room. I heard the water splashing in his bathroom, then his light went out, he opened the windows, and dropped upon his bed.

I hid my head under the covers so that he might not guess that I was sobbing. But at the slightest sound, I emerged, hoping against hope, that he would come in to talk with me. A quarrel—a war of words—such as many spouses indulge in would be pure joy compared to the unreasonable silence which separated us.

At length, being quite worn out by a violent fit of silent sobbing I changed my mind, as a woman will. The mountain would go to Mahomet. Bob would have to hear my story even if he did not want to hear it. It was his duty to listen to me. He might take it as he pleased—he would simply have to let me go through with it. I put on my kimono, entered his room and knelt by his bed.

My husband was sound asleep! His peaceful slumber marked the culmination of my injuries!

I had cried myself sick over our misunderstanding, but it meant so little to Bob that he could sleep like a child.

I was more hurt than I had ever been in all my married life.

"So that is the way a husband treats" said myself to myself as I stole back to my pillow.

Why should I waste perfectly sincere emotion over an incident which meant so little to Bob?

"Bob has his moods—but they always pass," his twin sister had assured me.

"I don't care whether this mood and enjoy life whether in the home or business world if they can keep a bay those ailments peculiar to the sex. If every woman realized how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes such symptoms as backache, headaches, nervousness and irritability, they would be healthier, happier and stronger. If you suffer from any form of female ills why don't you try it? It will pay you to so.

The season for shooting ducks will open a week from now. With these rains and a little cooler weather the hunting should be good. For several months we have been planning for you and have all our loaded shells and guns in stock, ready for your call.

Winchester and Remington guns and ammunition will fill any and all requirements.

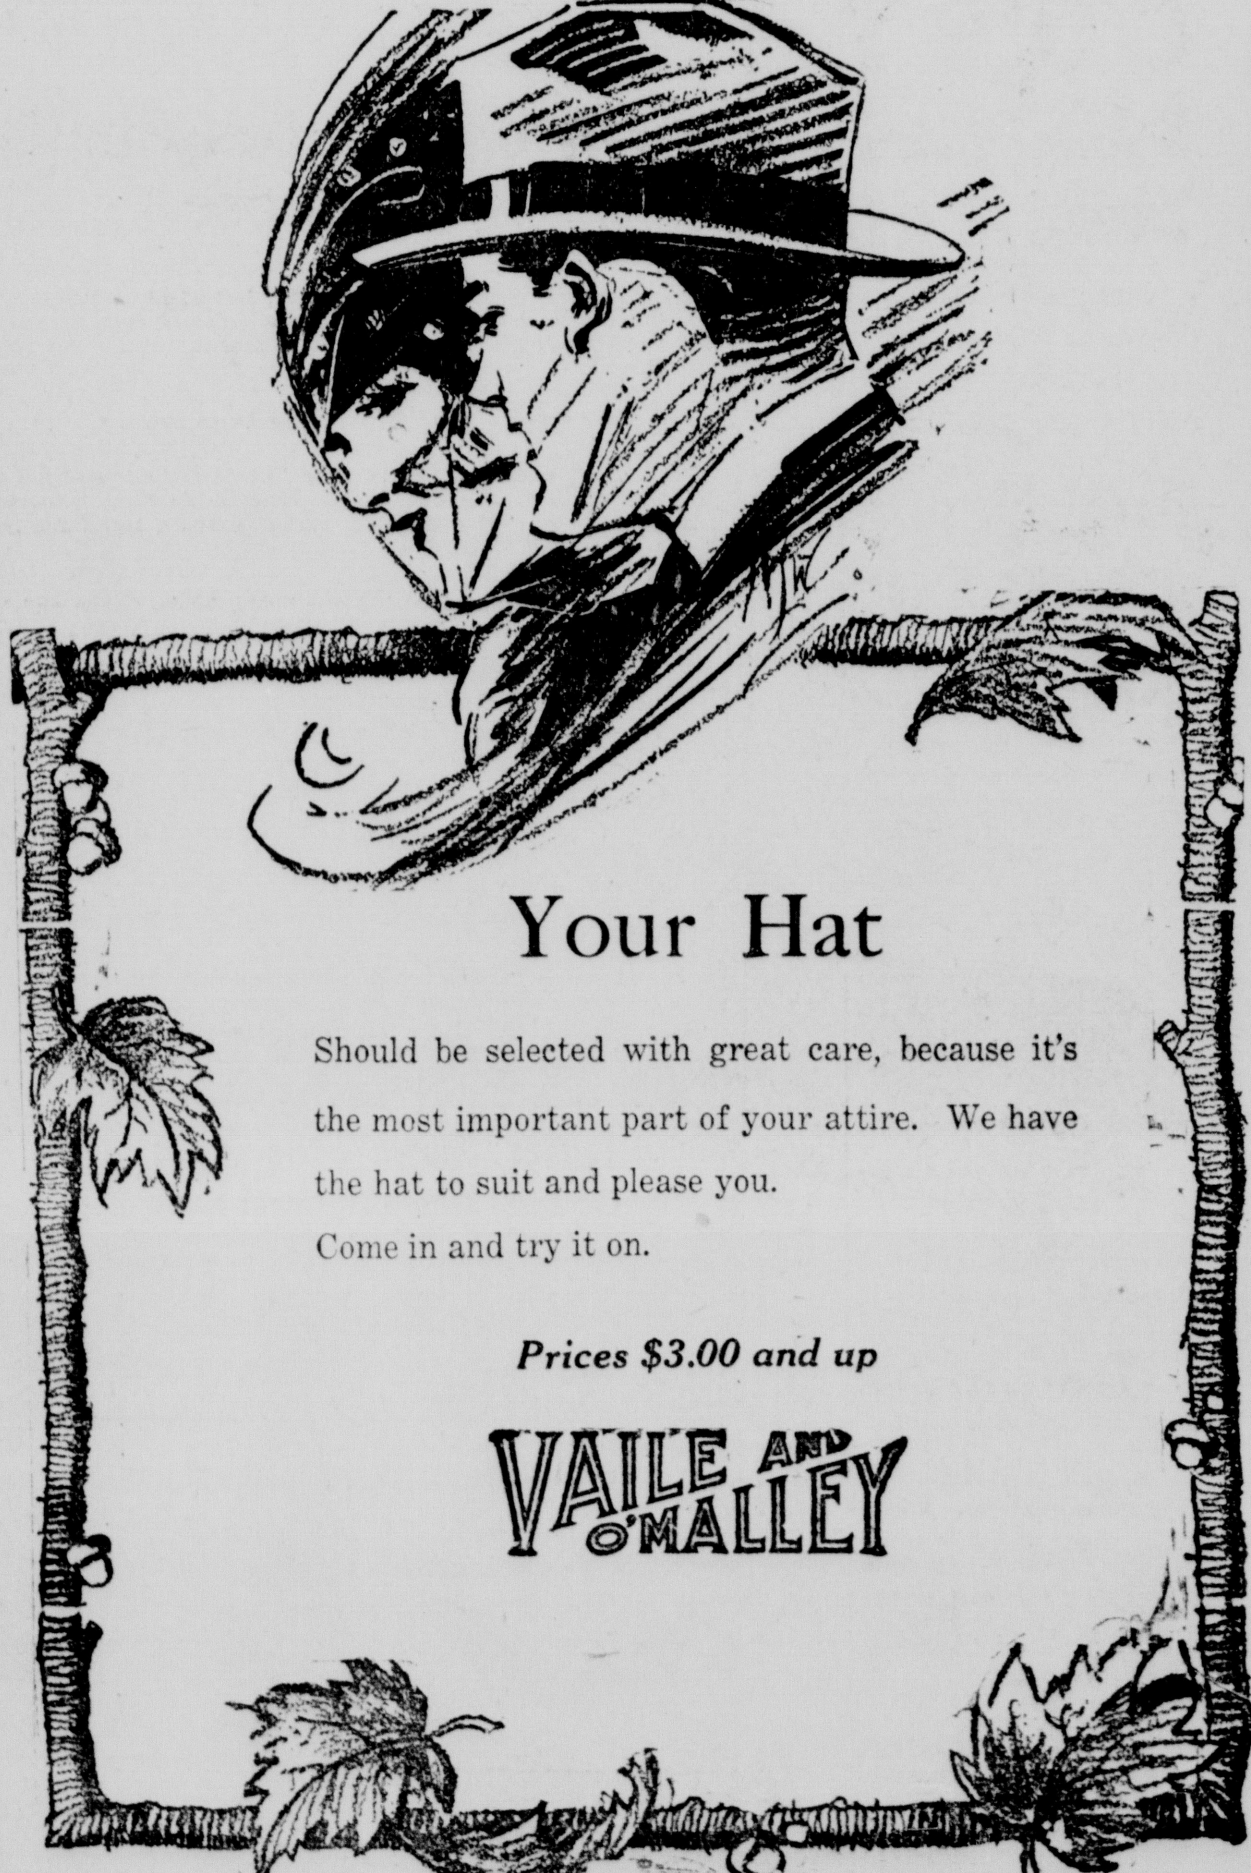

Pump Guns in 20, 16 and 12 gauge. Automatics in both the Remington and Winchester. Double barrel guns, both hammerless and hammer. Single barrel guns in .410, 16 and 12 gauge.

Rifles, both repeaters and single shot.

Call in and see us, we will be glad even if you are not going to buy. We carry the largest stock of guns and ammunition in Lee county. Should you need any special cartridges or shells, we will be glad to order them for you.

FRANKLIN GROVE M. E. CHURCH

Our September program is being filled with good things. On next Sunday morning the regular session of the Sunday School, followed by the children's sermon-story by Mrs.
Hutchinson. At the morning worship hour the pastor will speak from the theme: "The Embrace of Opportunity." There will be no Epworth League service. At the evening hour,
7:30, Charles A. Payne, the World Traveler, will bring an illustrated sermon-lecture on "Life Among the Mohammedans." Admission is free and a very cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the community to have the fellowship in the rare treat that will be afforded. The usual offering. Dr. Payne is a traveler of wide note. The pastor's wife is his daughter and this fact alone explains why we can have such a splendid opportunity in our midst. He has appeared seven times on the program at Chautauqua, N. Y., has given 200 lectures in the city of Milwaukee, Wis., has filled over 1000 return engagements in Wisconsin. He has lived among 40 races of the world. His information is thus first hand and reliable. He is eloquent and a scholar.
On Tuesday evening at the church he will bring his illustrated lecture on "Beautiful Hawaii," with 100 superb pictures. See notice elsewhere.

AMBOY LUTHERAN CHURCH

pastor will be out of town. He has been invited to conduct Mission Rally Day services at Milford, Ill., on that day. Our next services will be a week from Sunday, Sept. 19.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. John A. Simpson, Pastor

ficers of the school are planning for Rally Day and all members are urged to be present next Sunday.

Sermon subject "Laying Up Treasures."
Evening services at 7:30. Sermon subject, "A General View of the Bi-

Special Bible Lectures

The members of this congregation are now organizing a "School of the Bible and Religious History." Officers of this school will be elected by the church, the pastor being the instructor. Meetings will be held as regularly as possible, perhaps once a week. Thorough-going study of the Bible and related matters will be undertaken. Members of the congregation and any others who may be interested are invited to become members of this school. It is expected that this will prove to be as useful as any effort ever made by the church for biblical instruction. It is hoped that many will take advantage of it.

As a part of the course of instruction the pastor will give on certain Sunday evenings specially prepared lectures for the benefit of members of the school and all others who may be present. Among the subjects treated will be the following: "General View of the Bible," "Biblical Inspiration,"
"What Are We to Understand by It?"
"The Canon of Scripture," or the Determination of its Books," "What Is Meant by Higher Criticism?" "What Is Textual Criticism?" "Interpretative or Explanatory Criticism," "History of the Bible."
In addition there will be lectures on particular books and doctrines of the Bible. It is probable that more than one lecture will be given on some of the above topics. It is suggested that persons who may be interested in the addresses to be given on these subjects make it a point, as far as possible, to attend each. The first lecture of the series will be given Sunday evening, September 12, on the subject, "A General View of the Bible."

Dixon's Camping Ground is Praised By Many Tourists

G. M. Dyer, drilling contractor of Seattle, Wash., called at the Chamber of Commerce office today to express appreciation from the occupants of four cars travelling through to the Pacific coast for the convenience of the Dixon camping ground. Mr. Dyer stated that it was the first such ground he had found since leaving Schenectady, N. Y., and the third since they left Jacksonville, Fla.

The party heard of the Dixon grounds before reaching Chicago and a tourist told them of the celebration marking the opening of the Lincoln Highway between Dixon and Sterling on Labor day. Mr. Dyer stated that the news of the camping ground for tourists travels for hundreds of miles each way through favorable comment among tourists. He added that after he has finished his trip he will remember Dixon with a feeling of gratitude such as he now maintains toward several places passed and visited during the course of his several thousand mile journey.

An example of the kind of adverse treatment and the effect of the travel was given by his statement that drivers of seven cars with foreign licenses were in a court in East Chicago at one time for not having stopped before crossing a railroad track. Four of the seven immediately turned west, ignoring Chicago. They had originally intended stopping in the city and having their machines overhauled and repaired, but chose to have this work done at some garage between Chicago and Clinton in preference to being haled into a court.

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

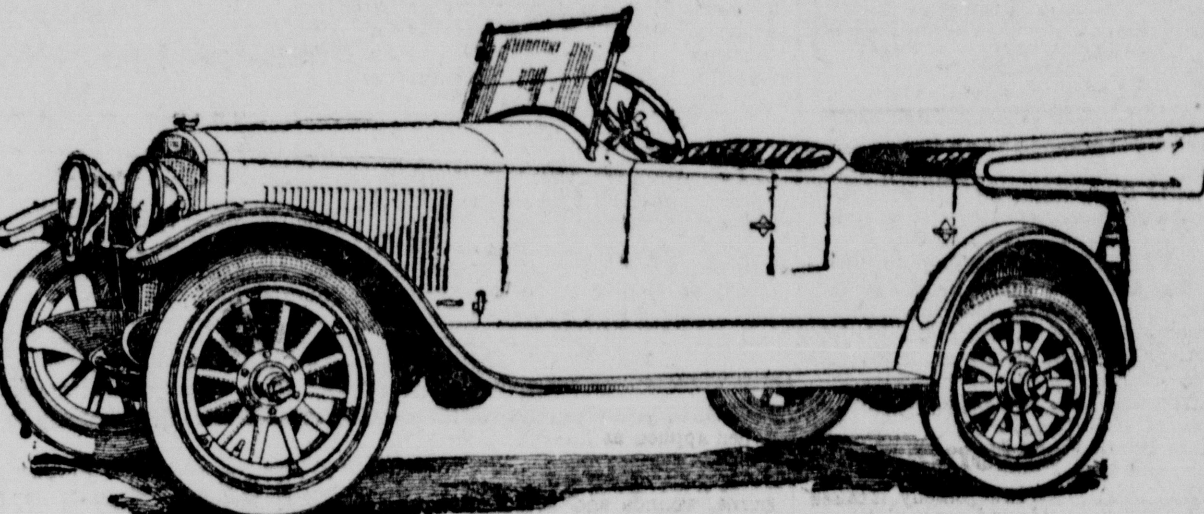

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Boudoir talks with Sybel on how cocoa butter beautifies the neck

Sybel's neck is round and adorably smooth and today she told me how to make the hollows disappear from my neck.

"A scrawny neck! I loathe the very thought, dear, for women need not allow hollows and bad lines to remain."

"You know, the appearance of the smartest georgette blouse can be made commonplace by a homely under-nourished neck. We owe these sheer, dainty garments a beautiful neck for a background."

"Coco-Bloom—made of pure cocoa butter, with other ingredients of equal merit—is a wonderful tissue builder. Rub it thoroughly into the hollows and soon your neck will be the envy of your less fortunate friends who do not appreciate the value of cocoa butter cream."

"Remember, Coco-Bloom is cocoa butter cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you have darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WHY CHANGE?

TO THE VOTERS OF LEE COUNTY:

If you have a faithful and experienced employe in your store, bank or factory or on your farm, who has given you satisfactory service for several years, would you discharge him simply because another wants his job, especially so when you can re-hire the experienced man at the same salary you would have to pay an inexperienced man?

EXPERIENCE NECESSARY

EDWARD E. WINGERT
Republican Candidate for States Attorney, at Primary September 15.

The State's Attorney is the legal protector of the people and their property, and their efficient defense was never more needed than now in this age of unrest, when grave crimes are increasing rapidly.

He is also the attorney for the County, a corporation of nearly 30,000 people, in its complex business affairs.

Whatever else the State's Attorney may be HE MUST BE A TRIAL LAWYER of demonstrated capacity. This capacity can only be shown by years of experience. The office, paying $2900 a year should be no field for experiment.

I have, in 31 years at the bar, tried many hundreds of cases, and in all the counties of the Circuit. This experience has not been limited to one sort, but has covered all kinds, criminal as well as civil. It is conceded that I can try suits successfully and without aid, and if elected I agree to ask no help from the County Board.

Where consulted in advance no client has ever lost money by relying on my advice.

I have never asked for or held any elective office, and do not believe that holding many offices justly entitles the holder to have others. I want this for one term only, and then another may have a chance.

Both men and women may vote at this primary and the support of all will be appreciated.
